She advises and defends employers in all aspects of employment disputes involving FLSA wage and compensation, Title VII discrimination, ADEA, ADA, FMLA, wrongful discharge, and unemployment. She drafts employment handbooks and employment contracts including non-competition, non-solicitation, confidentiality, and severance agreements. Chrissy provides employers with general employment advice related to discipline and terminations, paid time off policies, sick leave policies, reasonable accommodations, and workplace health and safety. Chrissy also serves as an impartial outside investigator when a complaining employee has filed a lawsuit or charge with a government agency, made allegations that involve misconduct, sexual harassment, discrimination, retaliation, whistleblowing, fraud, assault, or violations of business policy and procedure, made complaints that implicate the terms of a collective bargaining agreement, and made complaints that have significant financial exposure and publicity.

In 2016 and 2023, Chrissy was selected by The Daily Record as one of Maryland’s Top 100 Women. In 2017, Chrissy received the Elizabeth P. Hoisington ’40 Distinguished Alumna Award from Notre Dame of Maryland University which is presented to a graduate who, through achievements in career and/or community service, embodies the principles of the University. Chrissy has published several articles in the Maryland State Bar Association's Labor and Employment newsletters and has presented seminars on a wide variety of employment topics including service and emotional support animals in the workplace, the intersection of the ADA, FMLA, and workers' compensation laws, solutions for employment hiring practices for maritime employers, and harassment prevention in the workplace.

Chrissy is very active in the Baltimore community. Chrissy serves as a Trustee on the Board of Trustees for Notre Dame of Maryland University.
