Bio

Naseam Jabberi is a skilled associate attorney with experience in employment and labor law, focusing on federal litigation. Naseam also provides legal advice and training to management staff.

Naseam earned her Juris Doctor from the University of Baltimore School of Law. She was actively involved as president of the International Law Society and served as the diversity director for the Student Bar Association. Her academic excellence was recognized with several honors, including the Royal Graham Shannonhouse III Honor Society, the Center for International and Comparative Law's Director's Award, and the Law Faculty Award. She was also a staff editor for the University of Baltimore Law Forum.

Prior to joining RMG, Naseam was an employment and labor law attorney at the U.S. Department of Commerce and had legal clerkships and internships with the Senior Judges of Baltimore City Circuit Court, International Rescue Committee, Human Rights First, and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Admitted to the Maryland Bar, Naseam is fluent in Farsi and has an elementary understanding of French. Beyond her legal career, she is an award-winning actor and playwright, showcasing her creative talents in various performances and written works.
